Zoom link:

<https://radbouduniversity.zoom.us/j/84278755628?pwd=SEc3czRPZDZOUmpTNWhvQ1ZHWGRtdz09>

Morning : 9.30 – 11.30

9.30-9.45: Plenary Session - Welcome (Prof. Piet Hein van Kempen - Dean Law Faculty Radboud- ; Prof. André Janssen - Chair Professor of Private Law -)

9.45 – 10.15: Introductory remarks – Overview of the calendar for the week – Guidelines for the week (Tom Vennmanns, Pietro Ortolani + other members of the pedagogical team)

10.15- 11.00: Breakout Session: Discussion of the case and mock trial

10 teams of 6-7 students (each University is represented in each team) discuss their general views about the case, and what they have learned from the mock trial

Questions to be addressed by each group:

- What were the most relevant legal issues of the case?
- What were the most relevant technological issues of the case?
- Applying our national law to the case, what is the outcome of the case?
- Is this outcome fair? Do lawyers and computer scientists agree on this?

Goal of the session

Each team appoints a representative that will give a 5-minute pitch on the team's findings, and answer the questions above.

11.00-12.00: Plenary session (Pedagogical team)

Each team representative gives a 5-minute pitch of their results.

Afternoon : 14.30 – 16.30

14.30-14.45: Plenary Session: brief summary of the legal and technical issues identified during the morning and explanation of the assignment for the afternoon (Pedagogical Team)

14.45-15.45: Breakout Session: Top-level Choices on Legislative Intervention

10 teams of 6-7 students (each University is represented in each team) discuss what type of legislative initiative (if any) is necessary, in their opinion

Questions to be addressed in each group:

- What issues are in need of legal reform?
- Do these issues “belong” together, i.e. should they all be regulated in the same instrument? If not, which issues should be chosen?
- At what level should the new legal instrument be adopted? (National law/EU law/International law/Transnational law/Soft law) Why?
- What should be the form of this new legal instrument? (National statute/EU Directive/EU Regulation/EU Recommendation/Treaty/Model Law/Guidelines/Legislative Guide etc.)

15.45-16.45: Plenary session (Pedagogical Team)

Each team representative (different from the first one) gives a five-minute explanation of the choices that the team has made.
